1st International Online Conference
New Dimensions of Philology
Languages, Literature, Linguistics, Culture
13 – 19 April 2015

We have the great pleasure to invite you to 1st International Online Conference New Dimensions of Philology - Languages, Literature, Linguistics, Culture organised by The Institute of Humanities and Social Sciences of The State School of Higher Professional Education in Płock. The conference will be held in April 13 – 19, 2015 aiming at creating a forum to enable teachers, researchers, scientists and students to exchange opinions, reflections, present research results concerning various areas connected with languages, literature, linguistics, culture mentioned in the conference topic.

This Conference is a new edition of the previous meetings titled From the Philologists' Workshop, but this year's conference takes a new innovative form. The submitted papers will be presented on the conference website www.newdimensionsofphilology.pwszplock.pl where they will be available to all registered participants from 13 to 19 April 2015. Every registered participant will receive a username and a password which will give them access to all published papers and will enable them to exchange opinions and reflections in the discussion forum which will be placed below each paper. Since not only reading the papers but also participation in the discussion will be possible at any moment within the aforementioned period, we hope that this type of conference will be convenient for you and it will enable you to take part in it at the most suitable moment. As the new form of the Conference is organised for the first time, participation is free of charge.

All the papers presented on the conference website will be published in the post-conference volume assessed by external reviewers. Every participant will receive the certificate of attendance as well as of paper presentation.

We welcome you to send via email your papers which may be a paper in MS Word format, a video or a PowerPoint presentation with voice-over in video format. In each case, you are asked to send the title, the name(s) of the author(s) and their affiliation(s). In the case of the materials in Polish, the authors are asked to send a short summary in English (max. 300 words.) English and Polish are the languages of the conference. Only the papers/presentations which will receive the reviewers' acceptance will be presented on the conference website, and the authors will be informed about receiving (or not) the aforementioned acceptance via email.

The topics may include, but are not limited to:

- language acquisition
- linguistic analysis
